MERRY CHRISTMAS and A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Rose Andom Center to Open in the New Year!

Shortly after the first of the year, the Golden Triangle will welcome Colorado's first domestic violence resource center - the Rose Andom Center opening at 1330 Fox Street. Steve Siegel, the Director of the special Programs Unit of the Denver DA's Office, has high praise for Milender White, the contracting firm responsible for the redeveloping the site. "The level of their commitment to the social justice cause has been outstanding. We could not have found a better partner."

The $13,000,000 project is the result of an eight year coalition including Mayor Michale Hancock, U.S. Senator Michael Bennett, former City Attorney, Cole Finegan, and District Attorney, Mitch Morrissey, and the Denver Justice Council along with generous benefactor Rose Andom, the CEO of Rosmik and a local entrepreneur. Ms. Andom donated a $1 million kick-off grant. She has since contributed an additional $500,000 and has pledged major multi-year sustaining funds. Two years ago, the city proclaimed 'Rose Andom Day' to honor her for her involvement. "Ms. Andom brings a face to the courageous victims of domestic violence, and is a model of strength and perseverance. She knows, like Michael, Mitch, and I know that we must become a city that will not tolerate domestic violence," Mayor Hancock said. "The Rose Andom Center realizes our vision of providing a collaborative facility where victims can access comprehensive services in their journey to find safety from abuse. It is our hope that the center

Designed to bring multiple services under one roof serving victims of domestic violence and their children, the dream of providing this resource, which actually began in 2004, is about to become a reality. Community organizations and government agencies will provide services, counseling and training along with limited child care for those in need.

Steven Siegel, of the District Attorney's office, proudly points out that the Rose Andom Center will shortly be a model for other cities looking to make ending domestic violence a priority. "This concept crosses political boundaries. It will not just serve those involved in existing cases, but we expect that it will help those in the community who are in need of our services."

HUMAN TRAFFICKING SYMPOSIUM

On Saturday October 31st I was again honored to attend the Human Trafficking Symposium in Colo. Springs. As usual it was a great event with a lot to learn. We heard from speakers very knowledgeable in Human Trafficking from law enforcement to victims.

of Southern Colorado

One of the most interesting and innovative speakers was Anya Cherneff. What made her most interesting and intriguing was her take on the issue. Anya is extremely passionate about empowering women to take control their own destinies. Anya has dedicated her life to promoting women's rights as human rights. She has worked for several trafficking organizations both here and abroad.

While in Nepal she became extremely frustrated. Her frustration stemmed from the fact that no matter how many victims of trafficking that were helped there were always more, a lot more victims with no end in sight. She decided to attack the root of the problem as she saw it in Nepal, poverty. She realized that families would not be so eager to sell their children if they had enough resources to support them and live decently, that young women would not be so likely to sell their bodies if they had an honorable and useful profession. She also realized that the Nepalese were energy poor. 40% of the country does not have electricity and the electricity that does exist is sporadic and unreliable at best.

After a lot of thought and consideration Anya founded Empower Generation. This is a company that employs women to sell solar powered lanterns. They sell other solar powered lighting but the lanterns are the most popular and affordable. It is a tiered sales program much like Tupperware and much like Tupperware the women have a lot of flexibility. It is almost entirely a woman to woman business.

There are now 13 women led businesses and it is growing. In addition to pulling these women and their families out of poverty and helping this energy poor nation there are many more benefits. Most homes got their light from kerosene, which is a horrible health hazard in an enclosed structure. Women now have light to prepare evening meals. Students now have real light for studying. There is much more family activity in the home that has light. Anya has done a lot for the people of Nepal in addressing the root cause of trafficking.

Now let's not kid ourselves, there are many more causes, more stories, more statistics. I would be happy to bring more of these stories and facts to you in the coming months.

Have a wonderful, peace filled and relaxing holiday season.

Balancing paying for college tuition and saving for retirement can be very difficult for families, especially those with multiple children to plan for.

This week we look at a couple trying to balance retirement investing and college investing for their three children.

The Situation...

Kevin and Becky.....

Recommendations...

According to Mintel research, parents are more likely to be currently using a financial adviser (61 percent) than those without children younger than the age 18 at home (42 percent), and Becky and Kevin's situation is proof!.....

Committee Reports

Service Committee

The 2016 grant recipients were announced and approved at the November Zonta meeting. The organizations selected this year were Making Choices, Domestic Violence Initiative, Hands of the Carpenter, Second Chances and COVA.

The monthly Delores dinner was served on November 15. A delicious menu featuring favorite Mexican casseroles was served. Thank you, Olette, Judy A, Mary Lou, Cynthia, Nikki, Mary, Debbie, and CJ for providing all the food. As always, Olette, did an exemplary job of organizing the dinner!

Our first service opportunity with Hands of the Carpenter was Saturday morning, November 21. Even though it was a frigid morning, there was a good turnout for the car clinic. We served refreshments that included donuts, breads, muffins, fruit, juice, and coffee. We also set up an activity table for the children.

Members brought activity books, stickers, crayons, markers, matchbox cars, and miniature My Little Ponies. Thank you, Debbie, for organizing this event! Thanks also to Julie, Nancy, Debbie, Cathy C, CJ, Evie, and Cynthia for providing the food and supplies. It was a very successful and enjoyable morning!

Mary Lou has been busy planning for the Christmas party at The Haven on December 10. Members signed up for food items and gifts at the November meeting. If you have not signed up yet, please contact Mary Lou.

Because members are providing items for the Christmas party, there will not be an additional Item of the Month collection for December.

Fund Raising Committee

"The fundraising committee, now 100% focused on the Day of Film, has exciting news regarding our major fund raiser. We are holding the Day of Film on March 5, 2016, at Metro State University. Instead of being seated in a theater and having the brunch in another area, we will be seated at rounds of 8 or 10. There are extremely large drop-down screens where our film will be shown. Now we will have plenty of room for the brunch where our guests can be comfortable and not have to eat standing up. And, no one has to move after the film so we should not have the long lines for food and champagne that we've had before. We thought partnering with Metro State University would be appropriate since we have over $100,000 in the Edna Jean Hershey Scholarship Fund at Metro, which benefits single mothers. In addition the Women's Studies Department has been a sponsor of our Day of Film for several years. There is a parking structure across the driveway from our building. Parking will be paid for by the Day of Film.

At this moment, we have not chosen a film. However, Kathy Hyzer and Gwen went to the screening of The Hunting Ground, which they feel would be a great film for us.

We're meeting on Wednesday, December 2, at Gwen's home at 5:30. Future meeting dates will be decided upon at that time."

Advocacy Committee

The Sixteen Days of Activism against Gender-Based Violence started on November 25, International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women, and runs through December 10, Human Rights Day. The members of the Advocacy Committee will be meeting with Judy Allen, members of the PR Committee, and, we hope, other club members on Tuesday, December 1, to work on the Silent Witness program, our club project for the Sixteen Days.

Whether or not you were able to attend the December 1 meeting, you can still advocate or otherwise be active in the quest for an end to gender-based violence (often, but not always, violence against women). For example, go to the website of the National Domestic Violence Hotline. (This is a resource highlighted on the Colorado Coalition Against Domestic Violence website-its phone number is the one at the top of the CCADV's home page!) The Hotline's website includes simple suggestions for what a friend or acquaintance can do, person-to-person, to help a victim of domestic violence (go to <http://www.thehotline.org/help/help-for-friends-and-family/>) and then talk to a friend, family member, neighbor and coworker about the issue, tell them about the Hotline and the discuss ideas on the website. Some contradict "normal" reactions people often have to a victim's response to the violence.

If you have another idea, especially if you think it is better than this one, pretty easy, and something any of us could do, send it to me and I'll share it with the club.

NOVEMBER 12, 2015

Hacienda Colorado I-25 & Colorado Blvd

Call to Order: 5:58 p.m.

Judy Allen, President

Introduction of Guests:

Lora Hansen, MSU Scholarship Advisor (Judy Allen)

Nina Chacon, Jane M Klausman Scholarship Winner (Judy Allen)

Diane Wall (Meetup)

Kathryn Wirkus (Program speaker: Women Veterans of Colorado)

Lorie DiSaia (Applying for Membership)

Carol Mangold (Applying for Membership)

Program: Women Veterans of Colorado

Thank you to Zonta International and Zonta Club of Denver for the tremendous support of Women Veterans

Katherine shared her story of her many years of service in the Air Force.

The mission of Zonta is very similar to the Mission of Women Veterans of Colorado (WVC), which is to have all Women Veterans in Colorado realize their full potential.

Colorado has approximately 40,000 Women Veterans. Homeless women Veteran population is the fastest growing homeless population.

Non-membership, all volunteer organization. Not a Veteran Service Organization (like the VFW) WVC hosts educational conferences and symposia, connects the community, and provides information about local resources to support self-sufficiency.

Every year, they host a Women Veterans Conference themed around transition to civilian life Partner with: Volunteers of America, Student Veterans Organization at UCD, Adopt-a-Vet at Community Living Centers, Canines Providing Assistance to Wounded Warriors and others.

Also participate in the Denver Homeless Veterans Stand Down, which focuses all military attention for one day on homeless Veterans. WVC is the only organization in Colorado that focuses on homeless women veterans. Next event is November 19, donate coats, money, gift cards, hats, gloves, etc.

Need help with website, strategic planning, fundraising, etc. If you are interested in volunteering, contact Kathryn: 719-387-1493 or Kathryn@womenveteransofcolorado.org

See www.womenveteransofcolorado.org for more information.

Advocacy Moment:

Judy McNery

Global Goals (Sustainable Development Goals (SDG))

Leslie Wright presented on these goals that were developed by the UN. 17 goals were created for the world to aim on achieving. Goal number 5 is "Gender Equality" however, each goal being met will positively affect the status of women.

In Smoke Signal Judy McNery asked members to consider steps that they will take to work towards the SDGs. Members shared examples of what they will do:

Carin Paupore: To continue organic community gardening (goal 12: Responsible Consumption and Production) which donates 2500 lbs of fresh produce to Denver Urban Ministries each year (Goal 2: Zero Hunger).

Judy Allen: Make Husband use a refillable water bottle instead of disposable bottles (Goal 12: Responsible consumption and production)

Judy McNery: Help with Silhouettes campaign (Goal 5: Gender Equality)

Nancy Whirter: Promote Zonta to everyone (Goal 5: Gender Equality)

Cathy Conley: Use a reusable cup instead of paper cups at Starbucks (Goal 12: Responsible consumption and production)

Presentation of Nina Chacon (Jane M. Klausman Scholarship Winner)

Junior in Nursing, has 1 more year of school. Scholarship has helped tremendously in being able to show daughters that being a strong, educated woman is important. Thank you for the opportunity.

Presentation of Laura Hansen (Scholarship Coordinator at Metro)

Zonta Club of Denver has helped over 150 women with scholarships.

This year, Zonta has 5 scholarship winners, decided upon by Women's Studies. Metro is aware and appreciative of ZCD support. Shared story of Ana, who is a single parent of 2 with Cystic Fibrosis. She can't work but has created her own major of "Advocating for Children with Medical Conditions"

More the 70% of MSU Denver Graduates stay in the Denver community. These scholarships help to build the community.

Silhouettes of women to be hung in public places that share the stories of women who were murdered due to violence against women or girls.

Asking members to create silhouettes, share information on them, to be included in the project.

Doesn't need to be someone that you know.

Can also include statistics of violence against women, interesting or startling facts.

Silhouettes need to be red.

Wendy Henry-Moraskie will print silhouettes from the District 12 website.

Alexis Newton is working on finding a men's club to present silhouettes on.

Wendy Henry-Moraskie has a template to use to write the story. Contact her for the template.

This is a Club Project, important that everyone get involved in some little way. Important to have as many people as possible to attend the presentation.

President's Message

What is Volunteerism?

The dictionary states: "One who enters into any service of his or her own free will, offer or undertake to do something."

December 5, is the day of volunteering set forth by the UN. Have you ever asked yourself WHY DO I VOLUNTEER?

Does it make you feel good? Or do you do it because it might help someone who is in need of some service you may be able to give?

Zonta has given us the way to be volunteers in our community, to better the lives of women and girls who through no fault of their own have fallen into a place of maybe hopelessness, or despair. We have given over 440 years of combined service, through our membership, to the community. We not only give of our time but of our treasures. With over an estimated $2 million to Non-Profits in our community and Internationally, we have brought some change to many lives. Some we have seen and others we may never know. Of course this time of year we are made more aware of giving. But, we need to think about why we do the work, giving of our time daily.

Working on the Silent Witness silhouettes has educated me that what is and has been happening to women and girls is a centuries old problem. Women have had to endure many hardships through the ages and still are today. Have you asked yourself what would I do in that situation? I have many times when I hear of a women being abused by some one they have trusted or not even known. Our grant recipients this year covers a broad range of aide to women in very different settings.

We will be giving of our time when we volunteer to do a service project with these organizations. We have given of our treasures through the funding of these projects.

Thank each and everyone of you for the dedication you so feely offer with your membership in Zonta Club of Denver and the community.

Happy Holidays to you and your families.
