Director Will Attend Day of Film Screening

Michele Midori Fillion of Hurry Up Sister Productions co-wrote, co-produced and directed the 2017 Zonta's Day of Film feature, No Job for a Woman. Ms Fillion will attend the March 4 event and discuss the film following its screening. (Her travel expenses are being underwritten by Joetta Williams, Mary Benoit and Kathy Hyzer.)

Fillion is a journalist, formerly with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC). She has produced a variety of short documentaries for radio and television, with a special commitment to reports that focus on women.

Under a journalism fellowship provided by the Aga Khan Foundation Canada (AKFC), Fillion lived and worked in India where she produced two 22-minute documentaries on the rural development work of organizations funded by AKFC.

During her radio career, Fillion co-hosted a CBC morning current affairs program, for which she produced in-depth reports on current events, and she co-hosted a Toronto-based arts interview program. She was also a general-assignment radio reporter.

Fillion holds an MA in Sociology from the University of Toronto and an MA in journalism from the University of Western Ontario. She is currently based in New York.

Of No Job for a Woman Ms Fillion says, "This subject— women war reporters—has been my passion for many years since first discovering the incredible life of Dickey Chapelle while I was in journalism school... There were so many stories that I would have loved to include in the film and so many other reporters whose work I would also have liked to highlight, but I was constrained by funding and the parameters of making a contained 60-minute story."

ADVOCACY

WHY? WHY NOW?

Many times advocacy seems to be such an out there, ambiguous sort of thing. As we all know, Zonta is non- partisan, non-sectarian, so we must pick issues carefully. Many years ago many of us picked human trafficking.

Our advocacy has worked, along with the advocacy of many others. There is now a plethora of organizations working to fight trafficking, educate the general population about trafficking, educate school children about trafficking, and to rescue and restore victims of trafficking.

Do you remember the times when you mentioned human trafficking to a friend or a relative and they returned a blank stare, having no clue what you were talking about? Now the terrible secret is out, it is out of the shadows, with a lot of credit going to good advocates like us. When you see actors like Ashton Kutcher testify before the U.S. Senate about human trafficking, most particularly sex trafficking, you get the feeling that the issue has arrived, so to speak, and we need not worry any more.

Not so fast.

Even though we have come a long way, there is an enormous journey ahead. First, there is no way in the world that even if every victim was rescued that all of them could feasibly be rehabilitated; it sometimes takes years of very specialized and expensive care. Secondly, think of the masses of children growing up in the U.S. that need to become educated and informed about human trafficking. Counting on parents and guardians is probably not the best idea. Educators really need to be involved but we all know that is going to take a lot of very patient advocacy to work through the red tape. Last fall when I attended the Southern Colorado Human Trafficking Symposium one expert estimated that there is some form of human trafficking going on in every high school in the U.S. That is very mind blowing, also very believable.

So no, our advocacy work is not finished. Become an educated advocate. There are simple volunteer opportunities available right here in our area. If you want more information, please let me know.

EQUAL PAY FOR WOMEN?

Women celebrate as President Kennedy signs the Equal Pay Act in 1963

Utah political party county vice chair resigned after criticizing study of pay disparity.

Following a Republican Utah State Senator's bill proposing a study to determine whether there is a pay gap between men and women in the state, the Wasatch County GOP vice chair, James Green, wrote a letter published in two newspapers in which he acknowledged the pay gap, and defended it.

His letter said that men make more than women because they're "the primary breadwinners" of their families, and paying women equally would somehow ruin the makeup of a traditional family where "the Mother" remains at home raising children.

"If businesses are forced to pay women the same as male earnings, that means they will have to reduce the pay for the men they employ, simple economics," Green wrote. "If that happens, then men will have an even more difficult time earning enough to support their families, which will mean more Mothers will be forced to leave the home (where they may prefer to be) to join the workforce to make up the difference."

And having more women in the workforce would create competition for jobs, "even men's jobs," Green wrote. That will, in turn, lower the pay for all jobs and force "more and more Mothers" into the workforce, he argued.

That's "bad for families and thus for all of society," Green wrote. "It's a vicious cycle that only gets worse the more equality of pay is forced upon us. It's a situation of well-meaning intentions, but negative unintended consequences."

The response to Green's letter was swift and sharp.

State Rep. Tim Quinn, a Republican who represents Utah's 54th district, which includes Wasatch County, denounced the comments and distanced himself from Green, the Washington Post reported.

"I am shocked and appalled to learn how James Green feels about equal pay for women,...Of course, the Wasatch County Republican Party and I are for equal pay and rights for all people," he said in a statement.

The Utah Women's Coalition, which supports the bill to study the issue, took to social media with its criticism of Green's comments.

"Are we really having this conversation in 2017?" asked a Facebook post sharing the story.

The coalition's Stephanie Pitcher told KSTU (Salt Lake City), a Fox News affiliate, that Green's remarks were "very disappointing" and that they contradict the federal Fair Labor Standards Act, as well as anti-discrimination provisions in state law.

Pitcher said Green's remarks were surprising. "But the first thing I noticed was a very open recognition that there is a pay disparity between men and women," she said.

Two days after the publication of his letter, Green resigned from his party position "after receiving a wave of criticism," KSTU reported. "He said people were blaming the party for his personal opinions, so he decided to step down from his role as vice chair."

ZONTA WINGS

The Denver Zonta Wings Fund exists to aid survivors of human trafficking in Denver in need of emergency transportation and hotel/motel vouchers. The Zonta Club of Denver has partnered with the statewide Colorado Network to End Human Trafficking (CoNEHT) hotline to serve as a resource for survivors.

One gap in services to victims of human trafficking is that of transportation and shelter. Often a recovered victim is in danger of being re-recruited through physical and/or emotional coercion if she/he remains in the local community. Neither federal agencies (FBI) or local authorities (human services, police) have funding available to move victims. That's where the Denver Zonta Wings Fund comes in to fill this missing link. In conjunction with CoNEHT, Denver Zonta Wings will meet that need for emergency transportation and hotel/motel vouchers.

To date the Denver Zonta Wings Fund request from survivors have been:

8/31/2016 - $208.10 used for an airline ticket for $125 from Fort Lauderdale, Florida, to Denver and baggage fee of $83.10 for a female adult survivor of sex trafficking;

9/11/2016 - $22.75 used for a taxi ride for a female adult survivor of labor trafficking; and

2/9/2017 - $79.70 used for a Yellow Cab ride for a female adult survivor of sex trafficking to get to the shelter A Woman's Place in Greeley.

A breakdown of the CoNEHT call numbers for 2016 were:

Total # of Calls: 310 (200 in 2015, significant increase)

- Labor: 43
- Sex: 141
- Minor: 42
- Adult: 168
- U.S./Domestic: 108
- Foreign National: 38
- Law Enforcement Requested: 66
- Calls from Victim/Survivors: 102 (that's one third of all CoNEHT calls)
- Referrals from the National Human Trafficking Resource Center based in Washington, DC: 40

There were calls from 11 states outside of CO and 3 international locations.

Mary Benoit and I are the Co-Chairs of Denver Zonta Wings. Please reach out to us for any additional information.

~ Mary

FUND RAISING COMMITTEE

We are excited about our Day of Film on Saturday. Thanks to everyone who has supported our event. It is not too late if you haven't, we sincerely appreciate your donations!

~ Kathy

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE

We had a terrific turnout from our club members for the Grant Recipient Awards Dinner on February 9 at The Bent Noodle! In addition to representatives from each of the five fantastic grantee organizations, club members brought nine (wow!) very interesting and engaging women as guests, which was fantastic.

The Committee mailed out membership packages to over a half dozen prospective new members last month, and we are very hopeful that we will install at least two or three of these wonderful women as new members at the May meeting. We'll update everyone about new member prospects in the April Smoke Signal.

Membership would like to organize an outing to the Colorado Symphony for members and their family members and friends in early May. The Symphony will perform Bach's St. Matthew Passion on Friday, May 5 at 7:30 pm and Sunday, May 7 at 1 p.m. The production will include performances by two soloists, the Colorado Children's Chorale, and the Colorado Symphony Chorus - of which our own Wendy Henry-Moraskie and her husband Richard are members! For those who are interested, Wendy has offered to purchase tickets at a discount rate. At the March club meeting, Liz Stewart will provide more details about ticket prices and poll members about interest in attending on one of these dates, and the Membership Committee will then coordinate the event and announce the details in the April Smoke Signal.

~ Liz

PR COMMITTEE

The PR Committee met on February 16th. Wendy was successful in getting an announcement about the Day of Film published in YourHub, and was looking for additional news outlets to send the press release to. Julie posted the event on MeetUp, and printed information cards for the tables at the event. Judy Mc will get materials to Egan so they can print programs. Linda Rhea will send her bio and photo to Judy Mc, so that information can be included in the program (as Linda is moderating the discussion after the film).

The committee also discussed the club's need for a new banner. Wendy volunteered to donate a stand she currently has, and to do the artwork for the creation of a new banner. The Committee will seek approval from the Board for the expenditure.

~ Marian

SERVICE COMMITTEE

The Awards dinner was a great success. It was very interesting and enjoyable for all of us to meet and interact with our new grant recipients. The service committee is already planning service opportunities for the coming year.

The Item of the Month for March will be a cash donation for Zonta Wings. (Please note the article included in this month's Smoke Signal.)

There will be no March service meeting. The next service meeting will be Monday, April 3, at Perkins at 6:00 p.m.

Fundraising Committee - Kathy Heyzer

The Zonta Day of Film is on March 4, 2017. As of the meeting, only 1/3 of tickets were sold. Zonta members were encouraged to invite individuals and businesses that they know to join day of film through sponsorship or attendance.

The funds raised last year contributed to a grant for Family Tree. $30.00 of each ticket is tax deductible. Serendipity Catering will be providing the delicious food. The event will be held at the Tivoli again this year.

The film is No Job for Women. The director of the film, Michelle Midori Fillion, will be attending and will be flying in from New York. The film is narrated by Julianna Margulies.

Need 200 people to attend the event this year. Kate Linscott requested additional volunteers and people to support taking tickets at the door.

Nikki Headlee reminded everyone that sponsorships are essential to the success of the event. Members should consider reaching out to businesses that they frequent to consider donating. Evie Ashmore will send a letter on your behalf providing details of sponsorship. This is the largest club fundraiser of the year – all members are encouraged to attend.

The event includes validated parking in the garage only.

Old business:

Metro Scholarship, Nikki Headlee

Nikki Headlee discussed the Metro Scholarship that Zonta provides through the Hershey Charitable Trust. A generous former Zonta Club of Denver member left money to the club many years ago to be used for a Zontian with a monetary need. Not many Zonta members in financial need were requesting the funds and the IRS wasn't going to allow the funds to remain in tax exempt status. The club obtained a court order so now the funds can be used for a Zonta member in need from Area 3 or Colorado clubs, or can be used for the Metro Scholarship. The Metro fund is now over $100,000.00. The scholarship is awarded to single mothers attending the University. Metro Denver is willing to have a breakfast for our club and have them meet their scholarship recipients. The breakfast starts at 7:30 AM.

Nikki Headlee called for a vote on all those who wanted to attend a breakfast and 21 members said they would attend. No one voted to have the scholarship winners attend the Zonta Meeting.

New Business:

Birthday recognition

- Kate Linscott was recognized for a February birthday and being a member for 31 years
- Nikki Headlee was recognized with a corrected certificate from the January meeting for 31 years of service
- Barb Pellegren was recognized with a corrected certificate from the January meeting for 31 years of service

- Carin Paupore- recognized for outstanding service as Secretary and best wishes for her future endeavors in Panama

Judy McNerny moved to approve Penny Burke as Secretary to replace Carin Paupore. Carin seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.

Adjournment: The meeting adjourned at approximately 8 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Penny Burke, Secretary

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

Dear Denver Zontians,

Happy International Women's Day!!! This year's theme is Be Bold For Change and challenges that "Each one of us - with women, men and non-binary people joining forces - can be a leader within our own spheres of influence by taking bold pragmatic action to accelerate gender parity. Through purposeful collaboration, we can help women advance and unleash the limitless potential offered to economies the world over." I am very excited by this because I believe that, as Zontians, we are living this theme daily in our lives.

I am especially moved by their push for purposeful collaboration. I feel that this is one of the things that our club does best. Instead of trying to reinvent the wheel each year in service and advocacy we look for ways to collaborate with other partners who share our vision of empowerment for women and amplify our voices, together. It is a neat thing to be part of such an organization.

I also feel like we do a great job at being bold in our goals and mission. It would be enough for many to simply grant out the money that we do and call it a day. Instead, we seek for ways we can elevate these programs through actions and words, not just finances. Though there is still so much work to be done, I feel our club truly is Bold For Change!

~ Katie

Zonta's Day of Film 2017:

When World War II broke out, reporter Martha Gellhorn was so determined to get to the frontlines that she left husband Ernest Hemingway, never to be reunited. Meanwhile, photojournalist Dickey Chappelle wanted to get so close to the action that she could feel bullets whizzing by.

This award-winning documentary tells the colorful story of how these three tenacious war correspondents forged their now legendary reputations during the war—when battlefields were considered no place for a woman.
