What is Trafficking in Persons?

Trafficking in persons shall mean the recruitment, transportation, transfer, harboring or receipt of persons, by means of the threat or use of force or other forms of coercion, of abduction, of fraud, of deception, of the abuse of power or of a position of vulnerability or of giving or receiving of payments or benefits to achieve the consent of a person having control over another person, for the purpose of exploitation. Exploitation shall include, at a minimum, the exploitation of the prostitution of others or other forms of sexual exploitation, forced labor or services, slavery or practices similar to slavery, servitude or the removal of organs.¹

Who are the victims of trafficking in persons?

Approximately 80 percent are women and girls and the majority of whom are trafficked for commercial sexual exploitation. Including trafficking within national borders increases the estimate to two to four million persons per year. It is estimated that between 600,000 and 800,000 victims are trafficked across international borders each year.

Why are victims trafficked?

The root causes of the trafficking of women and girls stem from a lack of women's rights and opportunity. Women and girls are especially susceptible to trafficking due to gender-bias, oppression, discrimination, social and cultural practices, and the prevalence of gender based violence. Potential victims are at even greater risk if they originate from countries experiencing political and economic instability, internal displacement, militarism, civil unrest, internal armed conflict, and natural disasters. By failing to address gender gaps in the law, many governments fail to promote situations in which women's social, civil, political and economic rights are protected.

Where are victims of trafficking?

Trafficking of women and girls is a global issue.

- Girls from villages in Nepal and Bangladesh – the majority of whom are under 18 – are sold to brothels in India for US$1,000.
- Some 200,000 to 250,000 women and children are trafficked annually in Southeast Asia alone. Girls as young as 13 are trafficked as mail order brides in Asia and Eastern Europe.
- Women from the former Soviet Union States are taken to Israel, other parts of the Middle East or Western Europe; many are under age 16.
- Victims trafficked into South Africa include women and children from all corners of the African continent, and abroad.
- In Latin America, women are trafficked to Europe and the United States of America, and an Estimated 1,700 are trafficked to Japan.
- Between 18,000 and 20,000 trafficking victims enter the United States of America each year.

President Judy's Sept Message...

As I write this, the Denver National Convention is coming to a close. My office is downtown and in all of the years I have lived in Denver and worked downtown, I have never seen anything like it! My husband came down for a peek and described it as like a carnival. I thought that was a peculiar choice of words until I saw a group of folks dressed as clowns standing on one corner of the 16th Street Mall!

So the members of the Democratic Party are officially united and next week the Republicans will follow suit. And then—two months of attack ads. Woe is us!

The third step toward wisdom suggested in the Prevention article that is tying my messages together is:

“Consider Different Perspectives. The next time you’re about to disagree with someone, stop and ask questions. Try to understand his or her point of view.” Here’s hoping that we can do that with our political discussions for the next few months, and thereafter.

As we all know, Zonta International is asking us to focus on advocacy as a powerful tool to improve the status of women worldwide. Perhaps practice with considering different perspectives in terms of the presidential election would be good practice for our Zonta advocacy. The Merriam-Webster online dictionary defines the verb “advocate” as “to plead in favor of” and the noun “advocacy” as “the act or process of advocating or supporting a cause or proposal.” As a professional advocate (lawyer) I know that one of the most important parts of advocacy is understanding the opposing point of view. Only then can I most effectively put forward my point of view.

Our traditional service activities, giving our money to nonprofits that help women in various ways and contributing our time in hands-on service projects, continue. The Service Committee has solicited grants from several agencies working on issues of human trafficking. The Committee hopes to make one or two larger grants this year in an effort to have more impact, and in a focused way.

If you would like to know more about trafficking so you can help to raise awareness of it, consider coming to the District Conference in Colorado Springs, October 3-5, or attending the Human Trafficking Awareness Symposium, also in Colorado Springs on September 20 (see the flyer elsewhere in this issue).

The Fund-Raising Committee has been working hard on the High Tea at the Brown Palace and, as I write this, is disappointed in the response. If you receive this before September 6 and haven’t made your reservation, contact Deb Heckart, me, or Mindy Craig and see if there are still tickets available. A portion of the ticket price will be tax-deductible. This is our only fund-raiser for this year and the committee needs everyone’s support. Without that support, the funds available for our service grants next year will be diminished.

The Membership Committee is indirectly responsible for service and advocacy, too, because without members we can’t do either! To whom could you offer the opportunity to learn about, and perhaps join, Zonta? Please answer that question and then invite the person to be the club’s guest at the September meeting. You and your guest will have the chance to hear Eileen Sharkey, the club’s investment advisor and a nationally-known financial planner, talk about the investment of the club’s funds and about some of the industries and companies she thinks are good bets for the future, and why.

I’m looking forward to seeing you in your best duds at the Brown Palace on September 6 and at our meeting on September 11!

In the meantime, be of service, support one another, and guard your own serenity!

RESERVATIONS

Please RSVP to Cathy Conley at (303) 691-6926 (home) or (720) 622-0181 (work) and leave a message (or email at cathy-ryn.conley@gc.com) by noon on Monday, September 8th

Don't forget to call if you are not on the permanent reservation list, or if you are, but will not be able to attend the meeting. Our contract guarantees us only one additional meal over the number we guarantee on Monday afternoon, so if you don't make your reservation on time, you may have to snack from other members' plates! And, as always, we are billed for the number we guarantee, so we have to bill anyone who makes a reservation (or forgets to cancel a permanent reservation) but does not come to the meeting.

SEPTEMBER PROGRAM Eileen M. Sharkey

Sharkey, Howes & Javer
 Eileen M. Sharkey has degrees from London University in England and Newman University in Kansas. She received her Certified Financial Planner™ certification and opened her financial planning practice in 1978, designing retirement and investment plans and advocating the necessity for lifelong planning. In 1990 she formed the firm Sharkey, Howes & Javer, who are the investment advisors for our Zonta funds. Eileen has served as a consultant on financial issues for several magazines and newspapers, including The Wall Street Journal. Eileen will share information about how our club's funds are invested, and much more! Come with questions about specific companies or industries you've read about in the news—Eileen is almost sure to have more information and ideas about what the future holds.

Reservations

For each general dinner meeting, please remember to call if you aren't on the permanent reservation list. Our new contract guarantees us only one additional meal over the number we confirm on Monday afternoon, so if you don't make your reservation on time, you may have to snack from other member's plates! And, as always, we are charged for the number we guarantee, so we have to bill anyone who makes a reservation (or forgets to cancel a permanent reservation) but doesn't come to the meeting.

Permanent Reservation List Update!

- Members who are on the permanent reservation list do not have to call to make a reservation for dinner meetings (but you must call to cancel or be billed for dinner anyway)
- If you plan on coming to every meeting—why not add your name if it is not on the list?
- If you are on the permanent list but tend to forget to call and cancel—why not take your name off the list?

Fund Raising Committee

The Fundraising Committee is in full swing for staging our first “High Tea” at the Brown Palace Hotel. This will be a wonderful extravagant event where you will thoroughly enjoy tasting premium brewed teas and dining on scones, garden tea sandwiches and pastries. We still have many reservations open at the writing of this update on fundraising, so please make your reservation and don't miss out on such a special event that will be long remembered. There will be gifts for all attendees and a raffle for some great gifts.

The following three goals for the Fundraising Committee were established for FY09'

1. The Fundraising Committee will successfully complete a High Tea social event at the Brown Palace Hotel and raise a minimum of $2,200.00.
2. The Fundraising Committee will establish and have a structure in place no later than May 30, 2009 to launch a film festival fundraising event. This structure will include such areas as, hiring an Event Planner, issuing a Request for Proposal (RFP), establishing timelines, contracts, determining tasks, timelines, processes and other responsibilities as they are identified.
3. The Fundraising Committee will find a unique item(s) to sell on the ZCD website, as well as, at other ZCD events where we will have fundraising opportunities.

Our goals can only be met through each member's help and participation.

Never Grow Old!

One reason that people get old and bored is that change baffles them – they feel they can't cope with it

So they retire from confusion and sit back with their horse-and-buggy memories, losing momentum, gathering years and little else

But welcome change as a friend; try to visualize new possibilities and the blessings change is bound to bring to you

Let it excite you, arouse your curiosity, and transfuse you with its own vitality, and you'll never grow old, even if you live to be a hundred

If you stay interested in everything around you, in new ways of life, in new people, in new places and ideas, you'll stay young no matter what your age

Never stop learning and never stop growing – that's the key to a rich and fascinating life

August Dinner Meeting 8/14/08 Liz Cameron's Garden

The potluck dinner and catch up conversation was followed by Judy McNerny calling the meeting to order at 7:10 p.m.

Sheila Davis' inspirational moment was about embracing change.

Nikki Headlee introduced a guest, Stormy Filson, who is a single mother and non-traditional student at Metro State who is receiving our scholarship to help further her studies.

Judy asked for and received approval of the June minutes. Barb Pellegren gave the financial report and indicated there are 6 club checking accounts and 3 Schwab accounts which is a lot to learn about and keep track of.

Committee reports -

Joetta Williams reported the Membership Committee will have their first meeting the end of August.

Beth Mundell reported for the Service Committee and indicated work is moving ahead on the service grants. Letters are "in the mail".

Deb Heckart as Fundraising co-chair talked about the High Tea at the Brown Palace Hotel on Sept. 6th. Price of tickets is $64 per person and members were encouraged to make reservations as soon as possible as time is short. Deb also said that donations with/without a reservation will, also, be greatly appreciated.

There wasn't a report on Public Relations.

Judy asked those who had prepared dinner at Delores Project in July to stand and be recognized. Cathy Conley, Carroll Allen and Linda Rhea were thanked for their efforts. Linda Rhea talked about the on-going Delores Project which is a service project. Club members take dinner to this homeless women's shelter on the 3rd Sunday of each month.

Nikki displayed and passed around a handsome plaque given to the club at Convention in recognition of our club continuing to give 1/3 of our service dollars to International, and being one of the largest club donors to International.

There were several announcement flyers available this evening. One reported the outcome of the proposed ZI by-laws changes and dues increase. Judy summarized the information and reminded members that members are requested to make a voluntary contribution of $15 toward expenses of ZI for the 2008-2009 biennium. ZI has requested that donations be made to the club and checks be sent by the club treasurer to International.

Another flyer listed the proposed budget for our club for 2008-2009 which was based on our last year's budget. The proposed budget was accepted by all. Last flyer, brought by Mary Benoit, announced a symposium on human trafficking awareness being held on 9/20/08 in Colorado Springs.

Beth displayed the plaque given to our club by Metro State's Institute of Women's Services thanking us for our support and presented it to Jacki Sammons, whose idea it was, twenty years ago, for our club to provide scholarships at Metro for single mothers.

Next on the agenda was the election of delegates and alternates to the District Conference. Judy explained that because the club would be entitled to two delegates if we have more than 40 members on September 1 (we are at 40 now and could have one more member by the end of the month), we don't know yet if we will be entitled to one or two delegates. Under the club bylaws, the president is a delegate and, if the club is entitled to two delegates, the president-elect is the second. It was agreed by consensus to prepare for both situations. Linda Rhea nominated Krystie Rose Millich and Judy Allen as alternate delegates to the District Conference and Jacki Sammons seconded the motion. Motion passed by all.

Dorothy Swindt was presented with the Z Rock award last month and she awarded it to Joetta Williams. Judy presented her now famous Cracked Pots award to Jacki Sammons, for her patience helping Judy understand the club's finances; Barb Pellegren, for stepping in as treasurer unexpectedly; and Dorothy Swindt, in recognition of her service on two committees last year and her immediate performance of any task she was asked to do.

Linda brought the door prize which was won by Barb Pellegren
